

HUMAN SERVICES

Safety insights for mission success

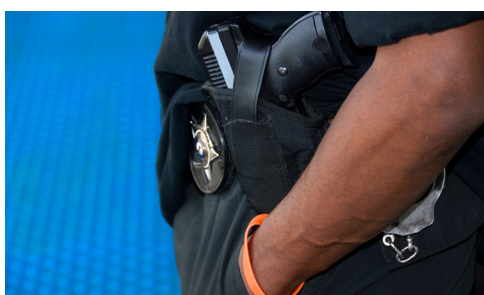

Protecting organizations that put others first

Recognize risk of suicide among clients

Suicidal thoughts are not uncommon, and it is critical to act appropriately for clients who may be in crisis. Learn how to develop response plans for at-risk clients.

Learn more

Is armed security right for your agency?

The question of whether to hire armed security isn't just a business or financial decision; it's an ethical and moral decision with many complexities.

Read more

Recalled items can lead to product liability risks for thrift stores

Thrift stores face significant risk when re-selling donated items that have been recalled by their manufacturers. Learn more about this potential issue.

Get details

Develop strategies for volunteer management

Proper management of volunteers is essential to help prevent risks, such as legal issues or safety concerns, and to ensure that volunteer efforts contribute positively to the organization's mission.

Read details

For more on our Human Services solutions and expertise, you can visit our site.